One evening late 1941, Colonel Montgomery of Scotland Yard, found himself standing before the members of the London Mystery Club, a group that enjoyed discussing mystery novels.

“Recently a stranger arrived in London from South Africa”, the colonel said. “Our sources have informed us that this man is probably a Nazi agent. We believe that he is a courier of a great deal of wealth with which to finance espionage in Britain.”

“A few hours after he stepped off the boat we arranged a car accident that sent him to hospital with a fractured arm. Our staff searched his clothes and luggage, which consisted of only a briefcase with letters from his friends in British Guiana. We considered a number of possible ploys but discovered nothing and still don’t know how he might be concealing something like a hundred thousand pounds.”

The members turned to one another and whispered for a few moments. Then the president turned and said, “Colonel, we think you have overlooked a rather obvious possibility: the letters from South Africa had rare stamps worth thousands of pounds each.”

Why was the wealth delivered in Britain secretly?

Ответ:

1. The hidden wealth could be confiscated at the boarder
2. The courier made a secret delivery because the money was meant to support the Nazi
3. It was a secret mission to finance espionage in Britain

Olivia

I never took Olivia to the theatre, but it was there I met her. I formed the habit now of going every Saturday night, usually alone, sometimes with George. It was George who introduced me to Olivia Nelson. She was an only child whose father, a cotton merchant, had died and left her all he had. She was not very beautiful but she was tall, very graceful, smartly dressed and attracted me at once. Olivia got interested when George said that I was a novelist. Novelists were not too common in Cornwall then, though I believe they are now as numerous as knights. Olivia adored famous people. She was delighted to meet me. It turned out that Olivia had read my books, at least some of them and she liked them. She could talk intelligently about them. She praised them and criticized them with a good deal of common sense. She discussed new plays and new books with me. She developed a habit of being wherever I was to be found. We had a few meals together at restaurants, and I discovered that I was dressing with unusual care.

She was so excited and happy, so full of good conversation, that I was charmed and captivated by her company. But I couldn’t help thinking that something was wrong. There was no reason to think the worst. However, I couldn’t make myself propose to her.

How did Olivia learn about the narrator?
